We define Pluralism as “Respecting the otherness of others.”

PLURALISM IN RELIGION, POLITICS, CULTURE & SOCIETY

Our Mission is to build a cohesive America, where no American has to live in anxiety, discomfort or fear of a fellow American.

Our vision is to see each one of us live securely in the pursuit of life, liberty and happiness.

At the Center For Pluralism (CFP), we bring Americans Together in social, cultural, political, religious, civic and other settings. The more we understand each other, the less likely we will fear or devise falsehood and myths about our neighbors. This will result in fewer misunderstandings and misperceptions and greater accomplishments among us for the betterment of all society. At CFP our programs are designed to achieve this mission. We believe human beings are born to be good, and are naturally drawn towards harmony and balance.

ESSENCE OF EACH RELIGION

Atheism to Zoroastrianism | 13faiths| 13 workshops | 13 Months

When we live as neighbors, fellow workers, students, players, activists or inhabitants of the same city, it behooves us to learn about each other's beliefs, cultural values, occasions of celebrations, devotions or commemorations. The more we know about each other, the less mysterious our beliefs would become thereby creating a friendly environment in which we can function effectively. Knowledge leads to understanding, and understanding leads to acceptance of the others, thereby propelling tension free and sustainable prosperity.

SHAPING AMERICA'S FUTURE

We are committed to a cohesive America.

In every place of work, worship, playground, school, restaurant, theater and other places of public gatherings you will find people of different faiths, races, and ethnicities interacting, working, studying, intermingling, playing and marrying together.

Despite these interactions, our appreciation of different cultures and faiths that form part of the American mosaic remains limited. The primary sources of information for a vast majority of us are our friends, the news and social media, which may not always be reliable and may even be biased. Based on what we learn, we form opinions about the faith, culture and lifestyle of fellow Americans who may be dissimilar from us.

However, as individuals if we can learn to respect differences and accept the God-given uniqueness of each one of us, then conflicts will fade and an environment of understanding will emerge.

We also need to reassure each other, particularly those who may be troubled by the changing paradigms and demographics of the society that we are committed to safeguarding the American way of life. As Americans, we are dedicated to upholding, protecting, defending and celebrating the values of liberty and freedom enshrined in our Constitution.

CFP is committed to vigorously promoting and advancing the principle of pluralism in the realm of religion, politics, social and cultural affairs. It will continue to focus its energies on ensuring a safe and secure America for all, as we move through uncertain times.

Please visit our website and participate in our endeavors as a volunteer, sponsor or donor. We are a Washington-based non-profit organization dedicated to building a cohesive and united America.
